Skin Structure

As you know, the first defense barrier of the body is the skin, which prevents the invasion of fungi.

As the largest living organ of the body, the skin is actually one of the most complex, interesting and productive organs.

Skin makes up 16% of body weight.

The Skin Has Three Layers:

- Epidermis (dead skin)
- Dermis (living skin)
- Hypodermis (fat)

Harmful Factors For Skin:

- Food
- Water
- Air
- Solar radiation
- Electromagnetic radiation
- Chemical detergents
- Sleep and Stress

Skin Types

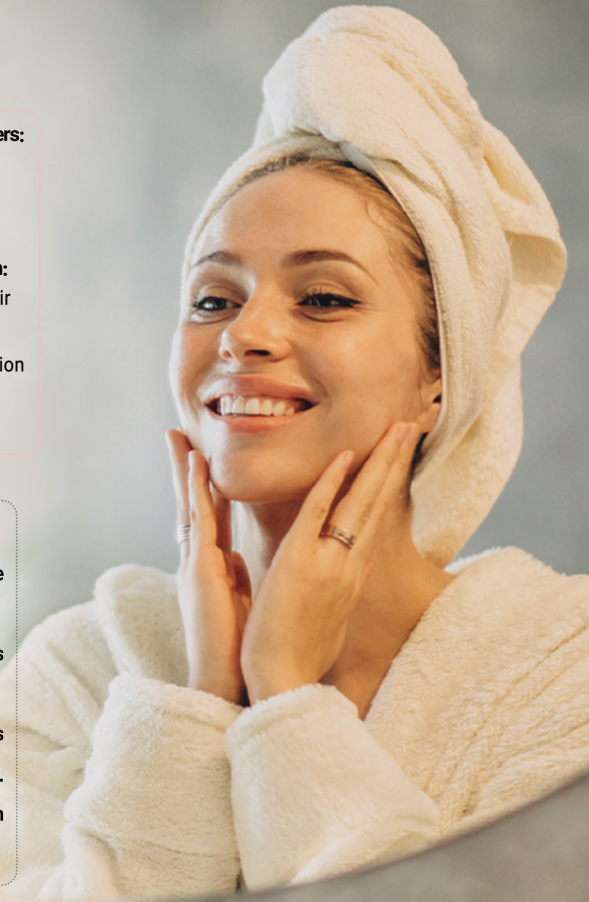

Dry skin: dull and very thin, it is also prone to wrinkles.

Combinational skin: This skin is actually a combination of any type of oily and dry skin, usually it is oily in the forehead, nose and chin areas, and dry in the areas of the cheeks and around the eyes.

Oily skin: This skin is thick and shiny. Pollution absorption is more in skins with this feature. It often has pimples and open pores.

Sensitive skin: This type of skin reacts to external factors such as weather changes, sunlight and internal factors such as menstruation, hot and spicy food, and stress. Its symptoms are itching, redness and abrasion in the skin.

Normal skin: Normal skin is one of the types of skin that has a balanced amount of fat and moisture. The skin is perfect and fresh to the touch.

SKIN CLEANSING

TAKE CARE OF THE BEAUTY OF YOUR SKIN

What Is Face Wash And How Many Types Are There?

As mentioned, any product that has cleansing properties and is used to remove facial impurities is included in the face wash category. You should pay attention that face wash is different from makeup remover and does not include products such as toner, cleansing milk, micellar water and wet wipes.

It can be said that face wash must be washed with water, while cleaning products do not have such a requirement.

Sulfate-free washing foam is the best facial cleanser suitable for all skin types, it has a soft and light texture and can be foamed.

Sulfate-free washing foam is very mild and does not leave any sensitivity or harmful effects. This product can also remove excess skin fat to its maximum extent and is completely anti-inflammatory, regulates fat and acidity of the skin, is anti-dry and softening. The best face wash brightens and brightens the skin and has a healing effect.

Micellar Water:

It is a facial cleanser that helps remove excess oil and impurities from your skin to have soft and beautiful skin. Micellar water is made up of oil-based micelles or particles.

WHAT IS THE RIGHT EYE CREAM FOR YOUR AGE?

-30 At young ages: use a good moisturizing cream that contains hyaluronic acid. Use these products once or twice a day according to the dryness of your skin.

+30 After the age of 30: Do not forget to take vitamins, green tea and other antioxidants at the same time as using eye cream. This makes the area around the eyes brighter and accelerates the production of collagen in the skin. Use eye cream at night.

+40 Between 40 and 50 years old: At this age, try to use a product that contains retinol to improve the fine lines around the eyes, the texture and even the color of the skin. It should also have hyaluronic acid to maintain skin moisture. Use creams containing retinol only at night.

+50 From one year onwards, at this age, you need a product that contains growth factors (megapeptides) that cause the growth of skin cells, and more, are plant-based.

POMEGRANATE

COLORED HAIR CARE

Properties Of Pomegranate Extract In Products Suitable For Dyed Hair

Pomegranate has high antioxidant properties due to its polyphenol content, and it is able to strengthen hair and strengthen it through cleaning reactive oxygen species and inhibiting lipid oxidation.

Pomegranate owes its healing properties to the chemical compounds in its structure. These compounds include ellagic acid, anthocyanins, flavonoids, etc. Pomegranate is also rich in tannins and is able to protect dyed hair from the damaging effects of sunlight. It also has antibacterial and anti-inflammatory properties. Pomegranate extract stimulates blood flow and restores hair follicles and can maintain hair in the anagen phase (active growth phase) by increasing blood circulation in the scalp, and also affects hair growth by stimulating the hair root and preventing hair loss and Prevents gray hair.

ARGANS

Argan oil is a natural oil that is extracted from the seeds of the argan tree (Argania spinosa) and the native plant of Morocco. This herbal product is rich in fatty acids and antioxidants and is often used in people's skin care routine as an anti-wrinkle and anti-aging product.

If you want to have a smoother and more polished makeup and experience doing makeup like a professional, primer is one of those makeup products that you should definitely use. Depending on the type of primer you use, in addition to creating softness and shine in your makeup, you can benefit from the care properties of these products.

In fact, primer is a dual purpose. It is both a makeup base and a skin care product.

After washing and drying the skin, put a small amount of primer on the skin and spread it on the face with the tip of the finger. You can use the primer after the moisturizer. But because the primer has a moisturizing effect, there is no need to use a moisturizer.

wrinkle:

The increase in age and the years when the skin is exposed to environmental factors such as sun and stress cause the skin to become wrinkled and weak, because it is not able to repair itself properly.

As a person ages, the middle layer of the skin (the inner layer of the skin that lies beneath the epidermis) begins to lose fat and become dehydrated.

Types of wrinkles:

Lines: they are not deep, they are only in the superficial layer of the epidermis.

Crease: They are deep in the dermis layer.

Wrinkles: they are deep in the epidermis.

Causes of wrinkles:

Dry skin and dehydration

Increasing age and decreasing the activity of fibroblasts

Decreased production of fat by adipocytes

Skin exposure to sunlight

Cigarette smoke, air pollution

Stress and fatigue

SULFATE FREE

What is the role of sulfates in detergents?

Sulfates are detergents or surfactants commonly found in products such as shampoos, body washes, facial cleansers, and toothpastes. The most common sulfate-based ingredients found in personal care products are sodium lauryl sulfate and sodium lauryl ether sulfate.

According to the scientists: these substances act to eliminate pollution, sebum and other pollutants on the surface of the hair, and also have properties to produce foam and improve the production of detergents.

Since these compounds can remove the fats on the hair, they may cause hair dryness or scalp irritation.

Sulfates can damage your hair and by stimulating the structure of the scalp, it can weaken the follicles and cause major problems for the hair.

This substance not only causes loss of hair proteins and weakens hair strands, but can also cause severe eye irritation and painful rashes called contact dermatitis.
